

Transitioning to the Next Generation of Wdesk

Transitioning to the next generation of Documents, Spreadsheets, and Presentations unlocks several new capabilities—new ways to collaborate, new history and audit features, and improved performance and scale. However, there are some differences compared to Classic Documents, Workbooks, and Presentations. It is important to review your process before making the transition. The transition time varies depending on your solution(s) and the total number of projects and documents. The timeline shown below is based on the typical experiences of our SEC reporting customers who transitioned one quarterly reporting project. Each bar represents one hour of time, with some steps that can be completed concurrently. Transitioning an annual report or multiple projects may take longer than shown.
